

Norris Block, East Side, Barracks of the 27th Regiment, as it looked in 1862.

The Reunion of the Twenty-seventh.

There were many interesting incidents connected with the reunion of the Twenty-seventh Michigan Infantry in this city October 22. The veterans were delighted with their welcome and treatment by the city and its citizens, and Ypsilanti, dear to them from the associations of 1862, will have a still warmer place in their affection because of the reunion of 1902 and the generous hospitality accorded them. It was an especial pleasure to revisit their old barracks in the Thompson Block, which is the only building used as a barracks in 1862 in Michigan that is still standing.

At the morning session of the regiment Colonel John P. Kirk, in welcoming them, read an unfinished poem which the late Judge Babbitt had begun for this occasion. The Judge had camped with the Twenty-seventh when he, in the commissary department, was stationed at Camp Nicholas, Kentucky.

After the business meeting, at which Detroit was decided on as the next place of meeting and Colonel W. P. Sumner of Detroit elected president and Fred J. Buck of the Adrian Times secretary and treasurer, the members adjourned to the Cass Plot east of the Michigan Central station, where their regimental flag had floated in 1862, to witness the hoisting of a new flag presented by Carpenter Post and Corps. Supt. Austin George, president of the Seventeenth Michigan Infantry, had charge of the meeting and told of the building of the barracks, called "Norris' Folly," because of its location, and of how the block was used for the Normal classes when the Normal burned out, and later for the Seventeenth Michigan as barracks and then for the Twenty-seventh Michigan. He paid an eloquent tribute to the flag, and introduced President Jones of the Normal, who spoke of the great opportunity of inculcating patriotism that the public schools have, and the fact that Americans make the best soldiers because they are the best citizens.

B. M. Damon, agent of the Michigan Central and custodian of the flag, gave a most interesting review of the history of Plot and the flag. He recalled the time when Lewis Cass was military governor of Michigan in 1813, and of the remarkable progress of the state under his beneficent rule, and that when Governor Cass became minister to France, his secretary of legation was Henry Ledyard, father of the president of the Michigan f badge. Mrs. Babbitt responded with much feeling.

Mr. Jameson then presented the following resolutions, which were adopted by a rising vote:

Whereas, The Twenty-seventh Michigan Infantry Association in reunion assembled have been most generously entertained during their stay in Ypsilanti; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of this association present, desire to express our gratitude, first, to Mrs. Florence S. Babbitt, our esteemed president, for her cordial invitation to old Ypsilanti, beautiful in old age, beautiful in her open-handed, generous hospitality to the old boys whom it sent out in their youth to the defense of their country; second, the Lady Maccabees for the home proffered in their beautiful hall; also to ex Mayor O. E. Thompson for opening to us the building known as the old barracks and rendezvous of the Twenty-seventh Michigan, that we might view our old quarters of 1862; to ex-Mayor H. P. Glover for printing, to the Killan Orchestra, Manager Merrill of the D., Y., A. A. & Jackson R. R., to the business men and common council for their generous financial aid, to Comrades T. J. West and John Chapman for kindnesses, and to our beloved president in her efforts for our happiness and comfort. We remember with pleasure the associations formed more than forty years ago, and with the renewing of this happy acquaintance we shall carry with us through the remaining years of life a warm place in our hearts for Ypsilanti and her generous and hospitable people.

J. R. JAMESON.

W. P. SUMNER,

E. C. FOX.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee of Welfare, Tex., "biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep, and felt almost too worn out to work, when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. Only 50c at Duane Spalsbury's drug store.

Cattle for Sale.

Twenty-five (25) good feeding cattle for sale. Inquire of A. M. Kanouse, 618 Congress street, Ypsilanti, Mich. 9193*

Meeting National Grange.

Lansing, Mich., November 12-21.

FAIR EXCHANGE

A New Back for an Old One--- How it is Done in Ypsilanti.

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; shooting pain shoots across the region of the kidney, and again the loins are so lame to stoop in agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Ypsilanti citizen.

Mr. J. M. Hart, of 104 East Congress St. (Mr. J. M. Hart, barber,) says: "I do not hesitate to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. I believe them to be an excellent remedy. I was annoyed for some time with a dull aching pain in my back and frequent attacks of dizziness. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got them at Weinmann & Matthew's drug store. I must say that I derived a lot of benefit from them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Duke Dresses Like Farmer.

The Duke of Norfolk, though a rich man, dresses rather like a prosperous farmer and has a beard of considerable length, which he has trimmed, it is said, whenever he happens to think of having that operation performed.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & Co.,
Proprietors, Toledo, Ohio.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all his business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

WEST & TRAU, X

Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Nations, like men, exert their greatest influence by example, not by force.

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness; children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. Its attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquifies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes

The Ypsilantian.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON V, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 2.

Text of the Lesson, Josh. xx, 1-9.
Memory Verses, 1-4—Golden Text, Ps. xlvii, 1—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.]
1. The Lord also spake unto Joshua.

How important and how wonderful a statement, but how little heed one is apt to give to it! That the only living and true God should talk with a mortal man should be enough to make all mortals give heed and earnestly inquire as to what He said. Men waste time talking of trivial matters, but not so the Lord. He never says anything unimportant. "Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the Lord hath spoken" (Isa. i, 2; Deut. xxxii, 1). "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son." "See that ye refuse not Him that speaketh" (Heb. i, 1, 2; xii, 25).

2. Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Moses.

In Ex. xxi, 13. Num. xxxv, 2, 11. Deut. xix, 2, 9, we find that which God had said to Moses concerning these cities, three on each side of Jordan. Every purpose of the Lord shall be performed both for His people and against His enemies. This matter of these cities was in His purpose, as He had said to Moses, and now the time had come to perform His purpose. From all eternity everything that ever has come to pass or ever will come to pass was all foreseen or foreordained by God (Acts xv, 18; Eph. iii, 11).

3. And they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood.

The avenger or revenger of blood takes us back to Gen. ix, 6, "Whoso sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed," and this word to Noah was repeated to Israel in Ex. xxi, 12, 13, with the saving clause that if a man killed another unintentionally God would provide a refuge for such. Justice required that a willful murderer should forfeit his own life, but the same justice said that one killing another accidentally was not guilty of murder, and the city of refuge was for him to flee to. God giveth to all life and breath and all things (Acts xvii, 25), and He will not have His gifts despised or ill treated. Yet He is not willing that any should perish, and He has no pleasure in the death even of the wicked (II Pet. iii, 9; Ezek. xxxiii, 11). All mankind are guilty before God and sinners in His sight, and all deserve to die for their sins, but God has provided at infinite cost a refuge for every penitent sinner in His dear Son by virtue of His great sacrifice.

4. They shall take him into the city unto them and give him a place that he may dwell among them.

There was a way prepared to each city of refuge (Deut. xix, 3) and every facility to enable the unintentional murderer to reach the place of refuge, and this verse tells how the people of

Norris Block, East Side, Barracks of the 27th Regiment, as it looked in 1862.

The Reunion of the Twenty-seventh.

There were many interesting incidents connected with the reunion of the Twenty-seventh Michigan Infantry in this city October 22. The veterans were delighted with their welcome and treatment by the city and its citizens, and Ypsilanti, dear to them from the associations of 1862, will have a still warmer place in their affection because of the reunion of 1902 and the generous hospitality accorded them. It was an especial pleasure to revisit their old barracks in the Thompson Block, which is the only building used as a barracks in 1862 in Michigan that is still standing.

At the morning session of the regiment Colonel John P. Kirk, in welcoming them, read an unfinished poem which the late Judge Babbitt had begun for this occasion. The Judge had camped with the Twenty-seventh when he, in the commissary department, was stationed at Camp Nicholas, Kentucky.

After the business meeting, at which Detroit was decided on as the next place of meeting and Colonel W. P. Sumner of Detroit elected president and Fred J. Buck of the Adrian Times secretary and treasurer, the members adjourned to the Cass Plot east of the Michigan Central station, where their regimental flag had floated in 1862, to witness the hoisting of a new flag presented by Carpenter Post and Corps. Supt. Austin George, president of the Seventeenth Michigan Infantry, had charge of the meeting and told of the building of the barracks, called "Norris' Folly," because of its location, and of how the block was used for the Normal classes when the Normal burned out, and later for the Seventeenth Michigan as barracks and then for the Twenty-seventh Michigan. He paid an eloquent tribute to the flag, and introduced President Jones of the Normal, who spoke of the great opportunity of inculcating patriotism that the public schools have, and the fact that Americans make the best soldiers because they are the best citizens.

B. M. Damon, agent of the Michigan Central and custodian of the flag, gave a most interesting review of the history of Plot and the flag. He recalled the time when Lewis Cass was military governor of Michigan in 1813, and of the remarkable progress of the state under his beneficent rule, and that when Governor Cass became minister to France, his secretary of legation was Henry Ledyard, father of the badge. Mrs. Babbitt responded with much feeling.

Mr. Jameson then presented the following resolutions, which were adopted by a rising vote:

Whereas, The Twenty-seventh Michigan Infantry Association in reunion assembled have been most generously entertained during their stay in Ypsilanti; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of this association present, desire to express our gratitude, first, to Mrs. Florence S. Babbitt, our esteemed president, for her cordial invitation to old Ypsilanti, beautiful in old age, beautiful in her open-handed, generous hospitality to the old boys whom it sent out in their youth to the defense of their country; second, the Lady Maccabees for the home proffered in their beautiful hall; also to ex Mayor O. E. Thompson for opening to us the building known as the old barracks and rendezvous of the Twenty-seventh Michigan, that we might view our old quarters of 1862; to ex-Mayor H. P. Glover for printing, to the Kilian Orchestra, Manager Merrill of the D., Y., A. A. & Jackson R. R., to the business men and common council for their generous financial aid, to Comrades T. J. West and John Chapman for kindnesses, and to our beloved president in her efforts for our happiness and comfort. We remember with pleasure the associations formed more than forty years ago, and with the renewing of this happy acquaintance we shall carry with us through the remaining years of life a warm place in our hearts for Ypsilanti and her generous and hospitable people.

J. R. JAMESON.
W. P. SUMNER,
E. C. FOX.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee of Welfare, Tex., "biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep, and felt almost too worn out to work, when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. Only 50c at Duane Spalsbury's drug store.

Cattle for Sale.

Twenty-five (25) good feeding cattle for sale. Inquire of A. M. Kanouse, 618 Congress street, Ypsilanti, Mich. 9193*

Meeting National Grange.

Lansing, Mich., November 12-21.